Watercolor Color Mixing

Recipes Card Deck & Color Mixing Grid

William F. Powell

The Watercolor Color Mixing Recipes: Card Deck & Color Mixing Grid offers a portable, studio-ready update to William F. Powell's trusted system. This travel-friendly toolkit translates Powell's proven method into 35 sturdy cards, a booklet and a reusable acetate colour mixing grid for precise, repeatable blends. Built for watercolour's unique needs, each card presents a finished swatch, exact pigment proportions and helpful notes on dilution/values so you can match a target hue and its light-to-dark range quickly. With a find-follow-measure-mix workflow, you'll locate a colour in the guidance index (say, flamingo pink, seashell white), follow the numbered recipe, measure on the acetate grid and blend a clean, reliable mix-ready for washes, glazing or fine detail.

Oil & Acrylic Color Mixing

Oil & Acrylic Color Mixing Recipes: Card Deck & Color Mixing Grid offers a portable, studio-ready update to William F. Powell's trusted system. This compact set distills the essentials of Powell's classic reference into 35 durable cards together with an instructional booklet and acetate mixing grid, so you can measure, mix and repeat results with confidence whether you're at the easel, in class or painting on location. Each recipe card pairs a full-colour swatch with clear pigment ratios and a cross-referenced index, making it simple to look up a target hue, confirm the formula and mix exactly what you need. The cards extend the learning with concise lessons on value control, complementary mixing and natural greying to keep colours clean, believable and harmonious across subjects from landscape greens and coastal neutrals to skin tones and shadow families.

Home & Garden

The Productive Garden

Companion Natasha Morgan

Natasha Morgan shows how thoughtful design, seasonal rhythms and purposeful planting can transform any space. Part narrative, part landscape design bible, it traces Natasha's personal relationship with gardening and invites readers to see their own gardens as sources of productivity and creativity, as well as connection and healing. Grounded in Natasha's two contrasting gardens, Oak & Monkey Puzzle and Little Cottage on a Hill, the book weaves in case studies from 24 gardeners, designers and experts across Australia and the world. There are QR-linked conversations and downloadable tools, as well as guidance on soil, planting, preserving and sustainable practices with recipes and evocative photography throughout. This book is far more than a how-to manual – it's a trusted companion you can return to through the seasons, wherever you garden.

The Most Interesting People You've Never Heard Of

Riley Knight

The Most Interesting People You've Never Heard Of tells the tales of the overlooked names of history – the individuals who lived fascinating, absurd or simply amusing lives but are somehow forgotten, overshadowed by those who were larger, louder or better at self-promotion. People who may not have shaped the world like famous heroes but had lives worthy of our attention all the same—from the profound to the peculiar. Diogenes the Cynic lived in an enormous ceramic jar; insulted Alexander the Great and lived to tell the tale. Pope Benedict IX 'sold' the papacy twice. Empress Zenobia almost conquered Rome, centuries before it finally fell. Jan Žižka never lost a battle, despite losing both his eyes. Adolphe Sax had multiple near-death experiences as a kid before growing up to invent the saxophone.
